OR, THE TREACHEROUS GUIDE.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER, BY BUCK THORNE.

Some years ago I went astray in a Maine forest I was lost completely in the densely wooded region I was in. At the time I had given up, tired and worn out, and sat down on a rock to wonder how things would turn out with me, I had been away from camp twenty-four hours. There were six of us in the camping party, including the guide, who was also cook and man of all work, and our camp was near the borders of Moosehead Lake. Three of our party, with the guide, had gone a-fishing. The fourth man, a little under the weather, had decided to remain in camp and do some heavy loafing. The fifth, myself, declined to go with the fishing expedition simply because he didn't feel like fishing that day, and so remained with the physically indisposed member of the camping

The fishermen got away about ten o'clock. Be tween that time and two o'clock I had played a number of games of cards with my companion, when he, feeling drowsy, gave way to sleep. I essayed the role of sleeper myself, but miserably failed, as I always had and have since, in the day time. Failing in the reading act as well—the day was too bright to put in in reading when camping in the wilds-I took a rifle and cartridge belt, and set off for a tramp in the woods, fully alive to the pos-sibility, rather say probability, of getting lost, but determined not to be if I had to "blaze" my way every three paces after losing sight of camp. And blaze" I did for a time until it became tiresome and too much like being out for that purpose, too much like prosaic labor for labor's sake, some thing to which the laboring animal, man, is not greatly given, and so I stopped "blazing." There's where I made a mistake. A stranger in that lo cality, and going out alone into the densely wilderness, I should have kept on "blaz Not willing to do that I should have re mained in camp. But I reasoned that, as I intended to go straight ahead all I would have to do when far enough away, would be to turn squarely about and go straight ahead for the camp reasoning was logical enough, but it won't work in the unknown wildwood-try it if you doubt me

It was 2.30 o'clock when I left camp. At 5, not having seen anything to shoot at. I turned squarely about and made for the camp, as I supposed, having something more than two hours of daylight to make it in. At 7 I began to look for the "blazed" trees, but found none. I continued to hunt for them until too dark to hunt longer—there's one blaze that won't show in the dark, to the average eye, at least, and that's a "blaze" on a tree. Then shot off my rifle three times quickly in succession an understood signal with us that some one or more of the partywas lost, expecting to hear the answering two shots at once, feeling sure I was not far from camp. No answer coming. I again gave the signal ds after a reasonable wait. No answer to that or third signal. Then I knew I was lost for the time being, probably for the night. It didn't excite me greatly, still I would much rather have been in camp. I should be out a supper and a comfortable night's sleep, but he who can't gracefully submit to when roughing it in the wilds bad bet ter remain at home. When day broke I would walk into camp and make nothing of having been lost in the woods over night.

Day broke on time. It found a wideawake man there in the woods anxious for camp, breakfast and sleep. Seated with my back to a big tree I had sat all night wide awake. I didn't know what den-izens of the wilds would be prowling about in the nocturnal hours, and I preferred to keep awake I had thought of getting up a tree, but it occurred to me that if there were bears or panthers about, and they wanted me, I had better be on the ground than up a tree. Once only in the night was the stillness and blackness broken, and that was when, hearing a movement in my front and, calling out and getting no answer, I fired in the direction of the sound, hearing nothing more.

At the first streak of day I was on my feet andwell, plunging further into the mire of misdirec-tion, as it turned out. Signal after signal I gave,

"Want to get back to camp, somewhere on the lake—Big Rock. Know where that is?" "Huh! Big Rock's way over yonder, twenty miles, mister;" and she threw out her long leather; arm and pointed in my rear, to my great amaze-ment. But it's always thus with a man lost in the wilderness. He travels miles in the way he should go, as he thinks, only to find—if lucky enough that he has been moving in the opposite direction. It seems queer that a human derelict can't steer the right course once in a while—I never heard of a case, though-but it isn't. You see, he steers a she wouldn't send him out. I promised-I would | I quite looked it. The smirk came back instantly have promised anything, almost—and asked her to send out something to cat, and some water, giving her half a dollar.

It was fully fifteen minutes after she entered the bark hut before any one appeared—a long time, l thought—and then a man came forth with an old fashioned rifle in one hand, a gourd and something else in the other. He wore no hat or shoes; had on a shirt and overalls that were once red and white respectively, and seemed a fitting match for the female now in the background gloating over course from conviction, which owing to the per-verseness of fate, is invariably the wrong one. If he would shut his eyes, whirl about two or three came up smirking and passed me the gourd and following.

A noise as of some animal in the woods arrested my attention. He allowed it was some "critter" we had no time to hunt. I agreed with him and we plunged on through the forest, and in a haphazard way, it seemed to me; but concluding the fellow knew his business-he did, as he meant to carry it out—I went on without remark.

After a while the 'guide' stopped and said with his usual smirk:

"Major, it jist comes to me that I can cut off ten iles o' this tramp, of things is right, an' git ye to camp by sundown -

For God's sake, see if things are right," said I, prospect of getting to camp occupying my mind to the exclusion of all else.

"Course I will, impor. You set down yere an' alt 'bout ten minits w'ile I ran half a mile an' back-onless ve kin swim sutth'n more'n half a mile. Major." Itold him to go quick, as I couldn't swim in my exhausted condition, and off he went, but taking his rifle, which I suggested he should leave, as he wanted to make quick time; but he said a "bar" would be sure to meet Lim if he had no gun. I felt that such would be the case for a sure thing and that ended the talk—and my acquaintance with the smirking hypocrite and devil.

I seated myself on a rock, tired and not over hopeful, and when I looked for the "guide" saw him hot. That was no great wonder, for those woods were thick and the underbrush thicker. For all that I began to wonder if that fellow had given me the slip, and accused myself of being a blanked fool for letting him go: then concluded I was borrowing trouble to add to that I was already in.
Suddenly a rife shot rang out in my front, and the hot breath of a speeding bullet singed my right check. I knew who had sent it as well as though I had seen the scoundrel fire!

Good God! Lam done for " Lelaculated, whirling over and getting behind the tree against which I had rested; not getting to my feet, but knees. I felt that I was at the mercy of that infernal smirk ing scoundrel, who, unseen and used to the woods, could keep sight of me and shoot at will. My blood curdled in my veins. The cold sweat stood out all over me. The thought that I was to be shot there like a dog to be killed like a rat in a trap, very nearly overpowered me. Staking myself, I fired three shots to three different points. Fate might direct one of the blindly shot pellets to the body of the murderous scoundrel who was stalking me for a few-dollars, ready to murder to gain his end!

Bang! bang! Ha! an answer to my three shots No—a rain of buckshot instead, from a double bar-relied gut. Most of these struck the tree above my head. Had I been standing I had been a dead man then and there! But that double fire. It argued two in the game of murder! That devil woman had stalked us to be in at my death? With a cry of rage, not unmixed with fear, I think, I sprang up, fired three shots more in the direction whence had come the double shot, and troke away from the spot. It was rushing away from a more or less speedy death to, perhaps, a lingering one of stary ation, I feit. Still there was hope in this direction, while to remain was to be butchered by two devits in human shape, not so craving for blood, perhaps, as for money, but rackless of blood letting with money getting their intent. Out in the open, with my repeating ride and plenty of cartridges, I would not have cared for half a dozen such as they, but in the woods there, where they, knowing my posi-tion, could hide while I couldn't—ugh! one was too many. Afterwards I could account for that long walt at the hut. The two willing to be mur-derers were arranging matters with regard to later proceedings—Lading their guns perhaps!

I hadn't taken ten steps—they were actually leaps—when I heard the double fire of the shot gun and the sharp crack of the rife, but no pinge of bullet or whiz of shot. I stopped and looked sharply in the direction of the sounds and saw trees, trees and undergrowth only. A few moments and bang !-bang !-crack! and a shrick came to my ears, and still no sound of crashing and striking lead. Then it occurred to me that the cheerful pair of money hunters and would be murin. I laughed loud and heartily. The humor of the thing-I thought it most comical, those two creatures peppering one another for greed of banknotes, each hoping to acquire my little wid-struck ne very forcibly, and watching out sharply for either one of the precious pair laughed out again. Then it occurred to me that such a thing was not likely. Then why that shrick? Why no shot in my direction, as they certainly could have kept me in aight?

Hark !-- crack !-- crack ! Not that shot gun, but wo rife shots, some distance in my rear. could not have come from my treacherous "guide" -no, there goes his rifle now, right in my front, then the bang! bang! of the shot gan, but no whistle of builet or shot in my direction. Yes, those to but dwellers were shooting at one circly! Hark! again. Crack!--crack! surely ! more rifle shots and a faint balloa! My heart came and did-three shots. Qhickly came two answer. ing shots, and a shout nearer than before friends were at hand, thank fortune! Three n shots from my rifle-I shot too in the direction of my foes with a shout as loud as I could give, and I plunged away to the direction of rescue and deliverance from the Philistines

Three minutes later and I was in the "hands of my friends" literally, my right arm being "pumped for all-aye, much more—than it was worth in my then physical state and my cars saluted with highly flattering expressions of satisfaction and pleasure at having found the "stray lamb !" which I knew were to be taken at par, aloeit chaff followed quickly on the heels thereof. Though I was declared to be the producal camper returned, for whom the fatted buck would be killed, I was not allowed to forget that I was an idiot-with a anowed to forget that I was an idiot-with a big I-for having "strayed from the fold," which truthful impeachment I gracefully and gratefully acknowledged.

After a long pull and strong pull at a flask of generous proportions and grateful contents, which but got no response. Two o'clock found me dead blown, and seated on a rock wondering how things would turn out, as stated. What my feelings were only those who have been lost for hours in the woods can tell, and I advise all others not to seek the experience. How long I had sat on the rock, my knees drawn up on them my elbows and my jaws in my hands, I could not have told withou looking at my watch. Whether ten or sixty min ntes it matters not. Suddenly I became aware of a not far away movement. Looking up quickly, I saw a strange apparition backed against a tree about twenty feet away. It was that of a woman in extreme decollete costume, consisting of shirt and petticoat, the one and the other originally white and red, cotton and flannel, but now at and soiled beyond the power of soap and water. The sleeveless upper garment hung low, exposing no feminine "charms," ofily a scrawny, bony breast; the petticoat falling just below the knees, exposing naked extremities; both garments more or less torn and tattered. At first I thought her to be the apparition of a female aborigine—a degenerate squaw-but soon decided that she was a sallow sun dried specimen of the sisterhood sporting casian blood, though of low grade and ugly fea I looked at this toussle headed weather eaten, ill favored specimen of the sex we adore with no; little surprise and interest (she might be utilized as a guide, but left it to her to open the conversation, if she would. I had not long to wait; still, it was some seconds before she took the initiative and spoke, both staring hard at one another, she at last opening out with:

"Who's you, mister?" To this point blank query I responded at once getting to my feet and taking up my rifle by the nuzzle

"I'm Tom Jones, lady; and you?" "I'm no ercount, I aint. What yer doin' yere?"

"Lost :—a lost babe in the wood."
"Huh! yer a city feller. I'd git lost in the city, in Wanter git back hum, I s'pose ?"

times, then start off in the direction he faced, he would be as likely to strike it right as wrong. He would have an even chance; but with his "head turned" his conviction is invariably awry, and this always follows. If you ever get lo woods, and you are convinced you should pursue a certain course, turn square about and make wry

"Twenty miles back-whew !" I ejaculated, and felt fainter than before. "Show me the way, madam, and you take ten dollars of my money. Do you know the way?" The creature's eyes glistened as she replied: "Huh! know the way!—sure! Pay now?" and her eyes glinted with a greed that personified avarice might have been equal to-might

"Pive down, and five when I reach camp. How"

The terms were accepted, and the woman advanced with her hand partially extended, the bony taion like fingers working convulsively, causing me to laugh in spite of my faintness and generally wretched feeling. If her eyes had glistened before they gleamed with a devilish lustre when I drew forth my wad and handed her a five dollar note over which her talons closed quickly and tightly.

"That creature would murder me for that roll." I said to myself, but the thought didn't trouble me, for obvious reasons: but I took good care that she led the way. We had tramped about a mile in the direction she had indicated, and which seemed to me to be the wrong one, when she stopped suddenly and, pointing obliquely, said, "See, m There's our cas'le—me'n my man's. See it?" laughed harshly and hysterically. I saw a but on the A tent plan, the frame work of saplings, probably, "thatched" with slabs of hemlock bark, a not very inviting "cas'le." Then she told me that she couldn't show me the way to camp, it being too "fur" for her, but that her man would. I was to remain where I was until she sent him out. I was to pay him the other five and not say a word about what proved to be a "hunk" of Johnny cake, cold and clammy, but ambrosia to me, as the water was nectar. "Best we got, major, to offer ve." the fellow said

"but yer welcome to't, major. Got lost, eh? Bad place ter git lost in;" and all the while he smirked and smirked and all the while I ate ambrosia and frank nectar, nodding my head in accompaniment didn't like the fellow's looks-he smirked too uch, his hair was too red, his eyes too beady and shifty, his teeth too yellow and uneven, and general appearance too everything unpleasant ut all the same I ate and drank, and left nothing but the gourd.

"Now, for Big Rock, my man," said I, refreshed and eager for the tramp to camp. Then he smirk-ingly informed me that he was to be paid five dollars. When camp was reached, I politely in-formed him, but without avail. He wouldn't budge until he had that five. I thought his beady yes snapped more quickly when he saw my roll out he made no other sign, only smirked and smirked. He was a better actor than his partner could disguise his feelings better. Starting on, he at my side, he fell in love with my repeating rifle and wanted to handle it—"just ter see how 't t'u'd seem ter handle sich a gun's that, major—but he When we reached camp he could handle it, didn't.

I told him, he regarding me with a smirk.

We went on for an hour, he chattering rubbish to which I gave no heed, when he suddenly blurted out that it was "wuth ten dollars easy," to guide me blurted out, forgetting my promise, and not much caring, that I had given up ten dollars—five to his woman. Then came a change over the spirit of his demeanor. He jumped, howled, raged, foamed at the month-looked like a veritable demon from her when he got back. I told him I didn't care what he did when he got back—I didn't either—but to go on or I would put a bullet through him—I was the one paid her. If I wouldn't promise, she desperate enough to do it, almost, and rather think

"pull," together with a timely supply of provender, "made a new man" of me, my story was demanded and given, when it was discovered that my felt hat had been perforated by two buckshots, and that a thin streak of blood showed on my face in front of my left ear, both of which discoveries were a revelation to me. It turned out that my scalp had been grazed by one of the buckshots, a fact that didn't impress itself upon my mind in the moment of peril when I was the target of that she find.

My story told, rage selzed my companions who, to a man, were hot for hunting down and shooting the miscreants, or delivering them over to the law. I protested, insisting that the devils couldn't be found, unless laid out dead or wounded a right-cous retribution—and that the law business would spoil our trip and cause us endless trouble and annoyance. Ferbaus I was wrong; but I had come down there for pleasure, not to do police duty. Settlash, no doubt, but emin, nith humm, by f. My views prevailed, and we started for camp which, to my great surprise and pleasure, I learned was not over a mile and a haf away! Probably I hadn't been more than four or five miles away at any time, and those miscreants of the woods had put it at twents! On the return, the jury in my case, the charge being idioey, allowed 'extenuting circumstances," a la French Juries, inasmuch as I had declined to I bet that beady eved scoundred "handle" my repeating rife—I shuddered to think what might have happened otherwise—and so justice was tempered with mercy in the sentence which was that, on reaching civilization. I was to be conducted to a certain popular "art gallery." and then and there to "open a basket," which doom I accepted with thanks.

UNDER THE WHITE LENTS

NOTES FROM THE WALTER L. MAIN'S BIG SHOWS. Our business throughout New York State proved to be far above our most sanguine expectations, and at nearly every stand the welcome cry of "everbody out to help seat people" was echoed and at nearly every stand the welcome cry of "everbody out to help seat people" was echoed along the line. The following fraternity registered as our guests during the past week: Louis Hedges, Agent W. D. Coxey, of the Ringling Show; Agent Sloman, of the Washburn Circus, and Tom Barry. At Saratoga, during the evening performance, Wailace, the riding lion, b-came ugly and unruly. Despite persuasions and proddings refused to do his long flying leap from a high pedestal on to the back of the horse. Realizing that persuasive measures were of no avail other methods were brought into play, and, soon unable to bear the proddings of his keeper, with a roar of anger and pain the maddened beast jumped from the pedestal to the ground and started on a mad galop towards the menagerie, closely followed by his attendants. People scattered in all directions before the beast in his slight, and soon the menagerie presented a scene of confusion mingled with the cries of frightened women and children and the roaring of wild beasts. A pug dog which happened to be in the path of Wallace was pounced upon and tossed in the air, and would have been crushed to death between the jaws of the huge beast but for the quick action of Keeper Jenks and his assistants, who, with firebrands, managed to drive the lloback into his den, and what might have proven a serious catastrophe was happity averted. Equestrian Director Aymar keeps the performance up to its usual grade of excellence. Perrell and Mereno's marvie like reproductions of classical Roman statuary calls forth the admiration of all. We have had slight opposition with Chas. Lee and Cole & Lockwood through this section of the country.

NOTES PROM LEE'S LONDON SHOWS — We are playing to fair business and everyone happy, notwithstanding the large drives and hot weather. James Davis, our genial prys a agent, is kept binsy attending to his outles here, and also booking his company. "A Crazy Lot." which takes the road aug. 15. Equestrian Director Seamann was presented with a diamond ring on hi along the line. The following fraternity registered his next act, high class pyramid, which is very catchy.

MADDEN AND LOWERY closed with Gallagher's Circus July 3, and joined Hunting's Circus Aug. 7, at Bangor, Me.

SAUTKILE Show NOTES.—We are in our four-teenth week, and business continues to be big. The band, under Henry Brown, is a feature. We carry eighty-two head of stock, 120ft, top, two 50ft, middle pieces and forty wagons and charlots. Mr. Sautelle is having a steam callope built for our parade. J. B. Swafford joined, July 4, as manager, making his fourth season with this show. Mile. Leo, snake charmer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray joined in Syracuse, N. Y. Lee Powell joined in Phornix, July 7, taking charge of the annex, in the piace of W. C. Brainard, who decamped July 9, taking the receipts of the afternoon and evening concerts and the side show money for that day. Mr. Santelle will pay a visit to the advance July 9, and get things in booming shape again in front. Younge and Lotta are making a decided hit with their double trapeze act. Madame Cordella, dancing rope, principal hurdle bareback act, and the Hamiltons also make a good impression with their riding acts. The show carries 220 people in all, and the stock is in fine shape. The parade is the finest ever put out with a ten and twenty cent circus, and the menagerie is an Soft, top.

VARIETY AND MINSTRELSY

NOTES ABOUT THE NEW LILLY CLAY CO .- Man ager Harry W. Semon is now almost prepared to begin his season, and, in his judgment, he has one of the very best "tiptoppers" of the day. The Lilly Clay Co. is organized to make money and to give the best of satisfaction to its patrons. To begin with, there are the De Forest living pictures, in which a score of beauties will, by combining nature and art, reproduce several classic paintings. Then there are twelve Parisian high kicking skirt dancers. Evans and Huffman, a pair of travesty and character change performers second to none; Connie Leslle, the charming soubrette and cantatrice; Marvelous Melville, the flying demon; the two Graces, comedy grotesques; the four American comedians, Burt Leslle, Al. Richards, Jack McDowell and Billy Grace; Dollie Brooks in her budget of songs, and Forrest and Garavallia in songs in all languages, together with the fifty fair ones who follow in Queen Burlesque's train, and sing as a unit in a cultivated chorus, while sustaining the fun and showing the beauty of that bright burlesque, "Don Jose," in which will be introduced a great new double ballet.

SADI ALFARANI, equilibrist, made his American debut at the Exposition Music Hall, Milwaukee, Wis., July 2.

SAMIEL STRAYS business manager of the Fay Foster Burlesque Co., was a CLIPPER caller July 9. Mr. Straus reports a good season for the company, although business in the West was bad. The company closed their tour at Ionia, Mich., June 30, having been on the road thirty-eight weeks, during which time they did not lose a single performance. The company will take the road next season about Oct. 1, and 1s booked solid. The show will, it is promised, be better than any Manager Oppenheimer has ever had.

Geo. M. Deverse, the banjoist and old time black face performer, does not wish to be confounded with the Geo., Devere now traveling through the with, there are the De Forest living pictures, in promised, or better than any manager oppenneumer has ever had.

Gro. M. Dryere, the banjoist and old lime black face performer, does not wish to be confounded with the Geo. Devere may traveling through the South. Geo. M. Devere was for years one of the Devere Bros., Wm. and Geo., and at one time was the stage manager of Gray's Broadway Theatre, Williamsburg, N. Y. He has been on the stage over twenty years, and has made a name for himself as a banjoist and bone soloist. Next season he will be the assistant manager of the Eden Musee, Paterson, N. J.

Frank C. Huffman, of Campbell & Huffman, proprietors of the London Belles Spectacular Burlesque Co., reports everything moving along nicely for next season. Rose Sydell is making the march costumes, and they are said to be handsome. The Three Banfons have been engaged, and will make their first appearance in America with the company. Mr. Huffman has thirly-two weeks booked, mostly in week stands. The company will include thirty-live people in all. Mr. Campbell and Mr. Shepp are at work on the mechanical effects.

W. S. CLEVELAND opened a brand new season at Toronto, Can., July 2. His new organization is certainly a very strong one. The roster: Billy Emerson, Lew Benedict, Crawford Bross, Banks Winter, Albert Hawthorne, John J. Nolan, Harry Meyrick, Geo. M. Sparks, Will Holbrook, Geo. Brunton, David Eilenberger, Harry St. George, Constantine and Lyons, Thompson and Bunell, and an orchesira composed of E. E. Franzen, E. M. Nunn, Jos. Mahany, H. H. Buiger, F. A. Squires, Wm. J. Flaherty, Harry Davis, Ellis Newton, Denton Gray and Eli McKee.

The music publishing firm of Harry Pepper & Co., this city, inform us that Lincoln J. Poliak's new bailaid, "The Prodigal Daughter's Return," Is having a large sale. Many professionals are singing it.

MATT MCELROY was found dead to the street at Betzhoover Borough, near Pittsburg, Pa., morning of July 6. The Coroner took charge of the remains. Among the papers found on the body was a letter from Harry Pierson. The Coroner communicated with Mr. Pierson for information as to the whereabouts of the deceased's family, and Mr. Pierson has sent the letter to The Chipper. Mr. McElroy was a musical performer and black face comedian, and some very same was interpretable. has sent the letter to THE CLIPPER. Mr. McEroy was a musical performer and black face conedian, and some years ago was in partnership with Sam Devere, and traveled with Harry Pierson's California Minstrels. He had recently been known as Dr. Mordaunt. Mr. McElroy's mother kept a boarding house near the Brooklyn Bridge, this city, some years ago. Huber McDowell, Coroner of Aliegheny County, Pa., is anxious to find the whereabouts of Mr. McElroy's family.

B. F. KEITH and family have gone to Poland Springs, Me, for the Summer. General Mannager E. F. Albee occupies a villa at Dorchester, just outside of Boston, Mass., for the heated speil. J. Austin Fynes, resident manager of the Union Square, is at Arverne, L. I. with his family.

JOHN M. TRAYSOR was a CLIPPER caller July 10. He was last seen with Fitz and Webster, in "A Breezy Time," with whom he completed as eason of twenty-two weeks on May 5. He played the role of the Irish woman.

Bob Fitzsimmons has returned to town after four weeks' vacation. He is working hard in getting things together for the Bob Fitzsimmons own Specialty Co. Since his last "ad." in The CLIPPER has very little open time. He will open around New York and play in this vicinity for eight weeks, after which he starts Week, where he is booked solid for iwenty-eight weeks.

ROBERT RECKER, the leader of the London Theatre, this city, has sufficiently recovered from a long siege of sickness to be removed to the country, and will probably soon start for the mount-inous regions of New York, to pass the remainder of the Summer. Mr. Recker has been ill for the past eight weeks with inflammatory rheumatism and heart trouble.

Joe J. Zamora, the "Mexican dare devil," has signed with the Night Owis for next season. Mr.

Haddicheriff and Zara, his wife, will close a successful two weeks' engagement at the Imperial, this city, July 14. Zara has been doing a dencing turn that has received rousing demonstrations of favor. She is, by the way, a woman of remarkable attainments, having been liberally e-ucated in both Constantinople and London. She is an secomplished linguist, speaking and writing all of the languages of Europe, besides having a knowledge of several other tongues. Had, Cheriff will, it is stated, soon engage in a competitive sword contest on norseluciek with Capital Martin, late of the Bengal Lincers. The time and place of the match has not yet been deel led. 5. He went up about half a mile, when he cut loose sion and paracoute descent at Red Bank, N. J., July 5. He went up about half a mile, when he cut loose from the balloon. He had seen before starting that he would be likely to fall into the water, and was provided with a life preserver. When he was about opposite the club house of the Shrewsbury Yacht Club, and about 1901. above the water, he let go the bar of the parachute with one hand, as he wanted to adjust his life preserver before letting go altogether. He was weaker than he thought, and when he let go with one hand he could not hold with the other. He struck the water nearly sideways, and was quite badly hurt. It is thought he will recover. He was taken to his boarding place.

Ar ONTARIO BEACH, N. Y., the senson is now in full swing. Calverley, the high wire hero of Niagara, was looked at on July 4 by a crowd of between 20,000 and 30,000 people. Calverley also performed at Meatord, Conn., on July 1.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.-The turbulent condition of labor circles and the riots attendant thereon made theatre going a secondary consideration among our people last week, and the effect on the cash receipts at all places of amusement was pronounced. The in roads of hot weather had sent consternation to the hearts of our managers, but with suburban traffic tied up, and down town pairons devoting their time to reading the extra editions of the daily papers the average audience looked more like the invited few attendant on a dress rebearsal than the paid attendance at a regular performance. Show business will continue extremely gloomy until the presentiabor troubles are at an end. As for theatrical happenings the week was almost barren of results. Chicago Opera House. "Abddin Jr.," as presented by Manager Henderson's American Extravaganza Co., is nearing its fiftleth performance, and business remains at a fair standard of prosperity. The exceedingly clever work of John J. Burke in the low comedy role is the feature of the performance and by the introduction of original "business" he continually grows in favor.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The first week of "Tabasco," as portrayed by Thos. q. Scabrooke and his clever cohorts, was productive of fair remuneration, and his five weeks' stay seems likely to result in ample reward.

HOOLEY'S THEATRE.—"Charley's Aunt" began she eleventh week of continuous possession of Manager Harry J. Powers' very popular house, and has still five weeks to run. Business is little better than fair, but in the weeks agone considerable coin has been garnered as a result of the drawing powers of his funny play.

Colcustia Theathe.—"Sowing the Wind" began 9 the seventh and hast week but one of the current visit of Fromman's Empire Stock Co. On 21 the final performance will be given and then Manager Davis will close the house for a time, reopening with the next regular season. Business is very light, but past success has been sufficient to put the run of "Sowing the Wind" on a paying if not overly profit-able basis.

Schiller Theatre.—The Schiller Opera Co. began the ninth week of their Summer engagement s,
"Dorothy" marking the fifth number in their repertory. Annie Meyers made her first appearance singing Lydia Hawthorne, with Beaumont Smith as Squire Bartam, Agnes Delaporte as Dorothy, Wm. Stevens as Geoffrey Wilder, J. Aldrich Libbey as Harry Sherwood, Ethel Lynton as Priscilla Privett, Elma Winton as Phylis and Wm. Wolf as Lurcher. Next week "Clover" will be staged. "The Bohemian Girl' last week was sung in a listless manner and met gingerly reward.

McViokan's Theatare.—An American Heireas," acted originally 2 has found little favor and seems destined for a brief career. Local critics who have found countless flaws in the play write in praise of the cast. The second week began s.

CLOSED.—Aliambra, Academy of Music, Clark Street Theatre, Frank Hall's Casino, Havlin's Windsor, Criterion, Sam T. Jack's Opera House, OLYNFIC THEATRE.—Manager Castle keeps open house by presenting this week "Welch & Sand's New Company." Last week he furnished work for Geo. Scanlon and Pearl Stevens, Octavio, Phil Maher, the Smiths, Paul Alexander, Bryant and Connors, the Benningtons, A. R. Baker and Bertie Reigel. "Casey the Piper" closed the show.

GROTTO MUSIC HALL.—This house, formerly Barlow's Pavision and Tivoli, reopened 7, under the management of Henry Trinz. The inaugural attendance was light, the opening bil being furnished by Laura Mortimer, Ida Nicolai, the Rossay Broa., Beatrice Leo, Geo. E. Beban, Lillian Beach, Daisy Marlow, Richie Foy and the Veddar Sisters, and Hickey and Maxmillian. The burlesque, "Monte Cristo Jr.," with Ida Nicolai in the tule role, finished the bill.

DEATHS IN THE PROFESSION.

HENRY FOWLE, assistant manager of the Bostonians, died July 3. in Boston, Mass. He was taken ill in this city about two weeks ago and was removed to his home in Boston. He expired soon after arriving there. Mr. Fowle had been connected with the Boston Ideais and the Bostonians for nearly fourteen years, and many members of the latter organization attended his funeral, which occurred on 5. His widow, whose stage name is Fiorence Reade, was formerly a member of the Bostonians, and his son, Henry Fowle Jr., is in the chorus of that company.

Anerose Wheatley, leader of the orchestra at the Grand Opera House, Ottawa, Can., died July 2. after an illness of ten days. He was a member of the Governor General's Foot Guards and was buried 5, with military honors. He was thirty-one years of age. When taken ill he was leading the orchestra at Smith's Pavilion. The interment was in Beechwood Cemetery, Ottawa.

LILLIE STAIRY, a variety performer, well known on the Pacific coast, died at San Francisco, Cal., July 5, according to our advices from that city.

MATT MCELROY, at one time a well known minstrel performer and a partner of San Devere, was found dead in the street at Beltzhoover Burrough, near Pittaburg, Pa., July 5. The Coroner took charge of the remains.

Love's Request. WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER. BY J. H. B.

His form was trembling, bent and bowed, And his sobs were deep and long and loud "And this, at last-is the end," said he, "Of what was called love by you for me "I have worshipped as no man has before, But the sad, sad dream of my youth is o'er "And I, with a heart that is broke in twain, Go ou' in the cold, cold world again.

"But, oh" and his scalding tears fell fast-Speak but one word, though it be the last. "Something to think of and live upon, Now all that was sweet in my life has gone mething wherein a gleam of light May shine on me through my stariess night."

He faltered and paused, and hung his head; But "Cheese it!" was all the lady said!

- D. Eloise Morgan and Caroline Hamilton will be the two prima donnas of the Bostonians next season. Joseph Shechan has been engaged to sing the tenor roles, formerly sung by Edwin Hoff. The repertory of the company will luclude a new comic opera by Oscar Well, the author of "Suzette;" "Prioce Ananias," music by Victor Herbert and libretto by Francis Neilson, and an elaborate revival of "Fatinitza," - Jessie Bartlett Davis re-

"Prince Ananias," music by Victor Herbert and libretio by Francis Neilson, and an elaborate revival of "Fatiniza," Jessie Bartlett Davis remains with the organization. The Bostonians will play a long engagement at the Broadway Theatre, this city, during the Winter.

— Lotta has again changed her mind, and will not act next season. She is recreating at Hull, Mass, and will sail for Europe early in August.

— Lilian Russell wil open her season at the Lyceum Theatre, London, Eng., under the management of Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, Sept. 3. Canary & Lederer have no means of preventing her from breaking her contract with them and sibaring for Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, next season, but, on her return to this country, after her Eur-pean tour, Miss Russell will probably be confronted with a suit for breach of contract, brought by the firm. Had she attempted to sing in America under her new managers an injunction might have been obtained against her.

— The new olay which Marie Wainwright is to produce next season is on a subject of modern interest. It is said to be somewhat on the order of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." The first production will be made in Baltimore late in the season. Tom Taylor's "Unequal Match" will also be included in Miss Wainwright's repertory.

Cincinnati.-The Cincinnati Opera Club, with numerous recruits of more or less musical fame presented "Pinafore" at Carnival Park during the past week, and will continue the performances nightly all next week. Outdoor opera upon a lake was a novelty presented at the Zoo some years ago, but Josephine, Little Buttercup, Hebe, Sir Joseph Porter, Dick Deadeye, Ralph Rackstraw and Capt. Porter, Dick Deadeye, Kalph Rackstraw and Capa. Corcoran never trod the decks of a finer vessel than that anchored at Carnival Park. The evenings were cool and wraps were not unpleasant. Pannie Hall, Frances Carey, Ida Pierpont, Oscar Ehrgott, Willis Baker, J. Clarence Harvey and Fred Lampe were in the cast. Henry Froehilch conducted the orchestra. The revival of the tuneful opera was conducted by Manager George E. Baker, and the audiences have been of fair size. "Americus" will follow July 18.

Cleveland .- Beautiful weather and holiday

Cleveland.—Beautiful weather and holiday week have added much to make the Summer manager happy and at beace with the world. The Fourth of July, with a thousand of visitors to attend the dedication of the Ohio Soldiers' Monument, did much to test the capacity of everything in the amusement way that was open.

Haltworth's Garden Theatre.—The Murray & Lane Opera Company continue prime favorites and play nightly to big business. The past week's bill was 'The Mikado.' This week, "The Bohemian Girl.' Coming, "The Sachem," a production from the pen of two Cleveland people. This event is looked forward to with much interest.

Carler Park.—"Americus" opened 2, for a two weeks' run, in a biaze of glory, and seats were at a premium. No pains have been spared to make it a magnificent spectacle, worthy of its name. Among the spectatites are the Hassan Ben All Troupe of Moorish Arabs, the Sisters Cavillari, Mile. Zolo, and Clark and Razzillians. Several new features were promised for the final week. The Nelson Sisters will be especially featured.

Pain's Ampilitheatre.—"The Storming of Vicksburg" is still the engrossing subject here. The weather was propitious and the crowds were immense. Business 2, i, was big. The Pains are sparing no expense to make this production the best they have ever given us. The pyrotechnic display is gorgeous, nothing is stinted, and, in consequence, the box office receipts Increase. Among the new specialty people are the Soncrant Brothers, the Donzettas, and Brandon and Regios. This spectacle is to close week of 16. Will H. Barry, manager and representative of Jas. Pain & Sons, has promised several new surprises for the coming two weeks.

S.ENGKRFEST MUSIC HALL.—This immense hall will be used, week of 9, by the Christian Endeavor Societies of the United States at their annual meeting, to be held here at that time. Sandow and a strong speciality company, week of 16.

CURS.—E. H. Douglass, a prominent concert tenor, leaves next month for Europe to further cuitivate his already good volce......Since and the Yum-Yum of Miss Lane was certainly an exquisite creation.....Tom M. Jordan is press and advertising agent for "Vicksburg."

Dayton .- The Grand Opera House is closed to morning.

Canton .- The Theatre Comique was well filled the past week and hearty applause welcomed each performer. This week: Joe Williams, Lottle Dor, Francis Leighton, Jessie Woods, Bella Irving, Paisy Leary, Rose Edmunds, Johnny Morghi, Frank Hurs and May Miller.

MAY HOWARD sends THE CLIPPER the following newsy letter from London, dated June 25: "Web, here I am, a long way from the Bowery. I arrived here I am, a long way from the Bowery. I arrived safely at Southampton, after a pleasant trip, and was welcomed by Dutch Daly and his wife. They have a pleasant bome here. The following American performers are meeting with success in London: R. G. Knowles is playing three halis nightly, and, although they would not have him at first, he has forced his way ahead and is now a shining light. Morris Cronin. the club awinger; James Norrie, tenor singer; Blocksom and Burns and the Hengler Sisters are engaged exclusively at the Alhambra, and are very successful. Dutch Daly is engaged at the Empire for three years. Al. Bellman, the singer, and Harry Gilfoil, the whistler, opened at the Tivoil, and were well received. Islore Witmark, of M. Witmark & Sons, the popular New York music publishers, has gone to Germany. Nat Goodwin and Mabel Amber are now in Carlsbad. De Laur and Debrimont open at the Empire in September for one year. They are now in Paris, Dagmar and De Celle are at the Palace for an indefinite period. May Yohe is a success at the Lyric Theatre, playing the title role in "Little Christopher Columbus." Jennie Hill has returned from South Africa, where she went for her health; but the trip did not benefit her much. Bessle Beliwood is in feeble heaith here. Vesta Tilley caught cold on her trip across, and could not open June 16, as expected. She was booked at the Oxford, Tivoil, Canterbury and Paragon, appearing at the four each night. She had sufficiently recovered to open June 25. Living pictures are all the rage over here, and five music halls are giving them. They are all draped, according to law, which takes away much of the beauty. J. Bernard Dyilyn is here and looks well. Eddie Quinn, wno was for years with Haverly, but later the drummer with Moore & Burgess' Minstrels in London, has closed with them and will be seen in the music halls in a new speciality. He is the husband of Fred Waldmann's sister. R. G. Knowles is advocating baseball here and is becoming very popular. Chicago, Id., July 8, will mark the finish of a remarkable continuous run of performances. At no time from Dec. 28 until Sunday evening's performance did the house close. The total number of performances given by Manager Jack during that time reaches the astonishing figure of one thousand eight hundred and fity-six. The performances were given in the following the continuous continuous description. Jack during that time reaches the astonishing igure of one thousand eight hundred and fity six. The performances were given in the following order: The house was opened by Mr. Jack on Dec. 28, 1801, and in the remainder of that year he gave eight performances. In 1892, which was a leap year, he gave altogether 32 performances; in 1893 he gave 734, inclusive of four midnight shows during the World's Fair, with the regular two performances daily. July 8, two performances, being the finationes of a continuous run from the afternoon of Jan. 1, 1894, making 382 for the current year, or a total of 1,856 continuous performances. During this time he had several road companies, also, which annually increased in numbers. In 1891 he had the Lilly Clay and Creole companies in 1892 he added the Mazeppa, Folly and Forty Thieves companies, and since then he has added the Brazilian, the "Big" and the French Spy companies. Ile added early in 1893 to his Madison Street House, the Star Theatre in Philadelphia, Pa., but released it later on to other parties, and he is now lessee and manager of the Empire Theatre as well as the Madison Street House the Chicago theatres early in August with some surprises. In the meantime he and Mrs. Jack will entertain friends at one of the Northern Lakes, and spend the time in boating, bathing, fishing and enjoying the other good things of life. In the meantime the houses will be newly refitted, painted and decorated, and the companies will be recostumed and otherwise equipped.

Here Zeitung's Bullet proof coat was put to a test at the Bijon Theatre, Philadelphia, Pa., on June 26. A dispatch says that the stage of the Bijon was filled with people who came to witness the first test of Zeitung's coat at short range. Dressed in his invention, Zeitung came upon the stage and had twelve bulets from a thirty two calibre rife fired at him at snort range. None of the bullets penetrated the coat. Then a two and a half inch pine board was placed on Zeitung's breast, and a half dozen shots were fired at it by Harry Romanna, a well known marksman. Every bullet went clear through the board, but none affected the coat.

Washington .- The midsummer vaudeville has caught Washington, and Manager Allen, of Albaugh's Grand Opera House, had swell audiences to see his first class variety bill. As the opening was to the capacity of the house, and as the patronage did not perceptibly diminish during the week, the venture cannot be otherwise than a decided the venture cannot be otherwise than a decided success. Aside from the excellent bill furnished by Monroe and Mack, Georgia Bryton, Dashaway and Moulton, La Fettie Freddie, Heiene Mora, George H. Wood, Capitola Forrest, and the Salambos, the new series of living pictures—nineteen in number — Mignon, Cupid's Vacation, Sappio, Psycho, Me and Jack, The Storm, Psyche at Nature's Mirror, The Diver, Lady in Hammock, Cupid and the Butterfly. This week Helene Mora and La Petite Freddie are retained, and the new people are Ward and Vokes, Lillie Markelle, the De Forcests, Dixon Brothers and Annabelle. A complete new set of living pictures are presented, and the week promises to be a repetition of last.

CHARLES A. SHAW'S excellent comedy company presented at Rapley's National Theatre a double bill, "Ruth's Romance" and "A Bachelor of Arts," last week. The satisfaction was complete and the business uniformly good; in fact, it can be truthfully said that everything produced by Mr. Shaw's company has been deserving of the highest praise and of the excellent recognition and support that has always been accorded. The comedica are well chosen and well acted. This week, the seventh of the season, Mr. Shaw presents "An Arabian Night," by Sidney Grundy, from the German of Von Moser. Robertson's "School" 16-21.

The second seventy-two hour female walking match at Kernan's Lyceum Theatre Summer Garden terminated 7. This week the house is given over to scientific sparring contests, under the direction of the Pastime Athletic Club, which offers cash prizes to contestants from Wilmington, Baitimore and Wasnington, also a prize for the inter-tity championship. NOTES.—Manager Allen has supplied the Albaugh with large electric fans which keep a delightful breeze stirring all the time during the performance, making the house cool and pleasant, while the mercury in the thermometer is approaching the century mark.... Annie Lewis, who is speeding her vacation in the mountains of West Virginia, writes that she is having a delightful rest and that it is so cold up there that a fire is necessary mornings and even she is having a delightful rest and that it is so cold up there that a fire is necessary mornings and evenings.... Charles Coote closed his season with the Shaw Comedy Co. 7. He sails for London this week to join Willie Edouin's Co., which produces an American farce comedy at the Strand Theatre early in August. Mr. Coote will create the part of an American dude. He has been reengaged for Mr. Shaw's Comedy Co. for next Summer.... Abbie Johnson, a clever young Washington amateur, makes her professional debut in Charles A. Shaw's Comedy Co. at Rapley's National Theatre this week, as Barbara in Robertson's "Arabian Night." Miss Johnson is a handsome giri, young, of excellent family and a hard worker.

SHOW NOTES.—We are in our thirteenth week and have lost only one snow, and that was on account of a storm. Business has been big, with the exception of ten days during harvest. The show has not missed a salary day, and all the people are wearing good clothes. Frank Leroy and wife, with Lew Prevost, joined at Odin, ill., making twenty people in the dressing room and eighteen people in the band. The railroad strike so far has not caused us to miss a stand, as we have had special crews. We have been on our four years' established route and that accounts for our big business.

HUNTING SHOW NOTES.—The Hunting Show has oncluded their first week in Maine, and, aithough Henting Show Notes.—The Hunting Show has concluded their first week in Maine, and, although we have had a show ahead, and one coming behind, covering our paper, the business has been up to the usual standard. Measrs. Campbell and Delaney, one of our concert teams, left at Bangor, and their places was filled by Madden and Loury, who do two fine turns. The concert is stronger than ever. Edwin Joyce and his wife, Verona Carroll, are doing some good work; also Elsie Lewis, in her character sougs. Frank Le May's contortion act surprises the doctors in this section. Mons. Hero, the human anvil of the side show, lost a finger lass week during his stone breaking act. Miss Allyn, our long haired lady, has gone to Boston to attend a law suit; she will return next week. Frank E. Griffin and Prof. Case, the annex orators, do good work daily in bringing the people in to see the freaks, wonders, etc. Bonney, the musical Albino, in his imitations of birds and beasts, with solos on the bagpipe and concertins, pleases very much. The stock is in splendid condition, under the master hand of Jake Posey, boss hostler; and the people praise our splendid horses. Bob Hunting takes great pride in his show this season; he is working early and late, and our business fully remunerates him for his time and trouble. Dave Costello is equesirian director, and he has everything in apple pie order. The "Turk," Rafferty, is master property man, and is a hustler. Prof. Wacks' Military Band, with their full complement of men, are right in it. Ed. Royce, our tuba player, left to join Hi Henry's Minstreis.

Notes from Kelly & Stanford's Troubadours.—We opened our season at Newark, O., June 11, to big business, played there three weeks, and then to Dresden, O., one week, also to big business. Opened at Coshocton, O., and turned people away July 4 and 5. Everything going smoothly. The Big 4 acts, "The Panters Weeding," the Gondollers and La Petite Hazel, the child wonder, have taken the towns by storm. We have had a few heavy rains and winds, but our outfit is first class, and stood it finely. Kelly goes around every Sunday morning with his white shoes and Stanford with the receipt book, and we have not played to a losing night since we have been our. Kelly & Stanford, next Summer, will put an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show under canvas.

Notes from Scribner & Smith's United Shows.

—Business continues good, notwithstanding we are having opposition right along. Mrs. Neil Smith went to your city on a brief visit last week. We turned people away at Caliss, Me., and the presequote us as the best show ever seen there. We have been fortunate in the matter of escaping blow downs, as up to date we have never had to lower a peak. A valuable black horse broke one of his legs and had to be shot. Superintendent Kent purchased a better animal the next day. For a wagon show our slock is unsurpassed, and Mr. Scribner says he will have the best atock money will buy. Mr. Smith is in advance and Geo. Hartzel is buying for the cook tent. Cook and Jordan make a hit in our concert. We did not get our Clitpens until Sunday night, and there was much waiting and gnashing of teeth in consequence. Press Agent Harrison will not take out a Winter circus, as he intended, being unable to secure release from contracts he signed last Spring. A new trick mule is being broken for a clown act. The side show continues to do a tremendous business and gives great satisfaction. The longest drive we have made this season was thirty miles, from Danforth to Hodgdon, Me. Roster of band: Carl Hessel, leader; Al. C. Sweet, cornet; Louis Kleiderer, cornet; W. G. Rollins, clarionet; Jno. G. NEW YORK CITY.

Last Week's Events .- Never before, proba bly, was there so great a dearth of theatrical news in this city as during the past week. Even litigaand domestic relations seemed to require no read and domestic relations seemed to require no read-justment. Scarcely any announcements were made concerning future events, and no complete resters of companies were furnished for publication. The most cheering news item of the week was that which conveyed intelligence of the sentencing to the pentientary for one year of a party who was, for the second time, found guilty of forging a news-paper man's signature to a request for theater tick-ets. This action of the court was very as infractory. ets. This action of the court was very satisfactory in so far as it covered a grievance, but unfortu-nately there is a traffic in complimentary tickets which does not come within the pale of the law, and for which there seems to be no redress. Without the enclosure at Ambrose Park, Brooksyn, where Buffalo Bill's Congress of Rough Riders of the World is on exhibition, can daily be found a number of unauthor-ized ticket vendors, who importune visitors to the camp, and, incredible as it may seem, offer for sale, among other sorts of tickets some of those issued as an act of courtesy to the press. The procurement of complimentary tickets by attaches of newspapers for the purpose of supplying their friends is a practice sufficiently reprehensible, but it is certainly to be regretted that some sort of punishment cannot be meted out to these who are thus no only guilty of a breach of faith, but who are willing to commit a moral wrong for pairry gain. Other pleasing intelligence received during the week was that which gave assurance of satis week was that which gave assurance of satisfactory seasons of both Italian and Wagnerian opera in this city next Winter and Spring. The foreign singers who are announced as engaged for each of these ventures are of good reputation, although it may be discovered that some of the laurels with which they are still crown d were won too long ago, and it may be proven, as it has been in the past_light brilliant records afford but meagre compensation for lack of cotemporaneous achievements. Concerning lack of cotemporaneous achievements. Concerning the Wagnerian season the local impressario will be required to show excellent results to reconcile the public to the loss sustained by the temporary re-tirement from this field of one who had purposed striving therein during the coming season, whose former successes afforded a guarantee of good results. The continued performances for the week ending July 7 were: "The Passing Show" at the Casino, "The Mikado" at the Fifth Avenue, and Rice's "1402" at the Garden, the last named closing prop. Contrary to the custom of former years, no special matince performance was given July 4, the regular Wednesday matinee at the Garden Theatree having afforded the only opportunity for the strength and second to the strength of the strength o

DEN THEATRE having afforded the only oppor-tunity for theatrical amusement on that day apart from the entertainment provided by the continu-ous performance houses.....At the GARDEY THE-ATRE A special matinee performance was given, July 3, of "The Globe Trotter," a larce, in three acts by Louis De Lange, which recently had its first production in another city. This perform ance was given in order to afford A. M. Palmer who is part proprietor of the play, an opportunity who is pare proprietor to the play an opportunity to Judge of Its merits. The consensus of opinion was not favorable to the play in its present form. The cast was as follows: A. Cheever Steele, Esq. Maurice Barrymore; Mr. Harbottle Brimstone, Frederic Robinson; Mr. Robert Hadley, Elward M. Beil; Henry Achurch, Lorimer Stoddard; James Buchanan Jones, V. M. Walter Damhosch has returned from Europe, whither he went in search of singers for his proposed season of Wagnerlan opers at the Metropolitan Opera House next Spring. His enter acquisitions are Herr alvary and Frau Sucher, the later a dramatic soprano who has recently been singing at the Royal Opera House in Berlin. Other engagements include Nicolaus Rothmuel, tenor; Max Schwartz and Herr Oberbauser, baritones; Herr Lange, tenor, and Marle Brema, soprano.

Frank J. Atoors, formerly a process server in the Sherif's office, pleaded guilty, July 5, in the General sessions, to forgery in the second degree in having signed the name of the dramatic critic of a daily paper to a request for four seats at the Broadway Theatre. This being his second off-nee of this kind, he was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

"The Passing Show" will be brought back to the Casino at the conclusion of Delia Fox's eight weeks, next season, and will remain there until the close of Canary & Lederer's lease, as that firm will not manage the tour of Louise Bandet in "Cliquette," as had been announced. All preliminaries looking to this end had been arranged, but when it came to signing the contract a difficulty arose, and the negotiations fell through.

Frank W. Sander has been re-engaged for a further term of two years to act as manager of the Madison Square Garden.

George House, College Garden.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE THEATRE.—Business at this house keeps up to a high water mark, the attendance July a filling every seat in the theatre. The bill offered this week is up to the usual stand-ard of excellence. Manager Keith's scenic artists have painted some new scenery that reflects credit on them. The Travellis, shadowgraphs, jugglers, programme is generously sprinked with favorities, the popularity of whom was demonstrated by the size and plaudits of the audience night of July 9. Rita Durand heads the bill most agreeably in several character changes, and is followed by Paul Han'ey. coinedian, who duplicated former successes; Edward P. Quinn, harmonica expert; Vernon and ilawinorne, in the sketch, "Our Aristocrais?' Kathe Romey, whose songs and initiations were uproartically received; Rowe and Reulz, buriesque a robais; Sadie Cusiman and Herbert Hotcombe, whose singing stood out prominently from the number of good things the programme afforded; Grace Gaylor, danseuse; Blanche Fernandez and the finny team, Felix and Cain, who closed the show in hurricane style. The people announced for next week are: Press Edridge, Murray-Bros., times and Rentington, A. Wilmuth Currais, Mitchell and Lorraine, Fred Roberts, Leonora, Martinetti Bros. and Kid Raymond.

Terrack Garbies.—The inimitable Maggie Cline is still the principal attraction at this house, and it is evident that her popularity is yet at floodide. Novelty is her aim, as shown night of July 9, when her entrainers on this week's list are Georgie Girard, an excellent cue flow singer the Georgie Girard, an excellent cue flow singer the Georgie Girard, and excel

NEW YORK STATE.

Brooklyn .- Despite the hard times and great Brookly in the west the first meet an great scarcity of money, the Wild West Show continues to prove a novel attraction to the people of Brooklyn and victuity. The attendance has plaked up wonderfully in the past few days, owing to the change in the weather. The show that Col. Cody presents in the weather. The show that Col. Cody presents is exceptionally interesting, and it is thoroughly appreciated by the people in this vicinity. There were over turce thousand people there July in the afternoon, and fully as many in the evening. The sceating capacity of the amplitueatre is about twenty thousand, and the performance warrants the immelies stretch of grand stand being crowded to its utimost capacity at each performance. The grand review at the opening of each performance is a sight that leaves a lasting impression on the mind. The Indians, with their crests of feathers, tich regain and hideous war paint, almost send a shudder through you as the sturdy blocks dash into the writing, riding bareback at a furious race of speed, circle around and line up in position before the grand stand, followed by their respective circles. It is fully as thrillingly exclude to see the cowboys, Mexicans, Cossacks, Gauches, Arabs, scouts and guides dash in in the same spirited manner, followed by their respective leaders. Last of all of this great group of daring riders come the trained and disciplined regular soldiers of the armies of the United States, England, France, Germany and Russia. There is no "fake" representation about this show. Each and every man is just what he is represented to be, and for this reason Messra. Cody & Salabury are deserving of the greatest praise. The soldiers are all of the respective regular armies, and are only excused on a six months' furlough, a special courtesy extended to Col. Wm. F. Cody.

The Larchmont Regatta.

The annual regatta of the Larchmont Yacht Club. held July 4, was the most interesting regatta held so far this season. It was a grand day for sailing, and everybody interested in the sport was on hand at an early hour. The club house was crowded to its utmost capacity with fashionably dressed society ladies, and the water was so crowded with craft of every description that it seems miraculous that no serious accidents happened. It has been years since such a grand display has been seen at that no serious accidents happened. It has been years since such a grand display has been seen at any local regatts. There was an exceptionally heavy entry list and there were most interesting struggles in nearly every class. There was a fine display of flyers in the schooner fleet, including Emerald and Ariel in the larger double stickers, while in the next class below that contained the Victor, Loyal and Agnes. Among the sloops that helped to make the regatta the magnificent success it proved were the Katrina and Queen Mao, which met by special agreement, and the bitter rivals, Wasp and Gloriana. There were also many rival yachts in the otner classes. The race between the twenty-one footers also attracted considerable attention. Ten boats had entered in this class and seven intended to start, but there were actually only five striers, and two of that number did not finish. It was a mishap, however, which prevented First and Maysis from competing, as they parted their shrouds while maneuvring in the harbor and were obliged to withdraw.

There was a fresh breeze from the southwest when the preparatory signal was given, at 11.30 a. M., and five minutes later they were sent on their way rejoicing. The leg to Hempstead Harbor was a close reach, the next to Stamford and Captain's Island before the wind, a beat to windward back to Hempstead, and a broad reach home. While the yachtsmen were regretting their bard luck a fierce squall came up from the northwest, and the wind was still in the south, with another calm. While the yachtsmen were regretting their bard luck a fierce squall came up from the northwest, and the wind was still in the south when the result of the regatts, and they made matters pleasant for their friends and guests when they returned to the club house. THE OLD Schooler yacht Countess of Dufferin, with which the Canadiansia is 6 sought to win the America cup, was on July 1, towed out into the lake at Chicago, Ili., and allowed to go ablore, a dismantial and water many persons, and finally because the property of a Chicago company, including the Leiters and several others. Her name was changed to Countess.

Lord Denkarks, the enthusiastic British yachtman has given an order through Designer Watson, for the construction of another racing yealth to replace the Valkyrie, upon whose lines she will be built. The work of raising the sunken Valkyrie was to have commerced en July 10.

THE VIGILANT BEATEN.

A very Close Race Results in a Victory for the Britannia.

Seldom has a yacht race attracted such widespread interest on the other side of the Atlantic as spread interest on the other side of the Atlantic as was occasioned July 5, at Glasgow, Scotland, when the America Cup defender, Vigilant, made her first appearance aganist the leading cutters of Great Britain in English waters. The Valkyrie and Satanits were also to have tried conclusions with the Vigilant, along with the Britannia, but their unfort

Britain in English waters. The Valkyrie and Satanita were also to have tried conclusions with the Vigliant, along with the Britannia, but their unfortunate collision, in which the Satanita cut down and sank the Valkyrie in fourteen fathoms of water, put an end to their prospects. The Valkyrie was injured beyond repair and the Satanita was crippled so badly that she can hardly be straightened out into racing form short of several months. A full account of the accident will be found in another column. The great prize that these three crack yachts of England were guarding against the Vigliant was the Muir Memorial Cup, which was up for competion in the Mud Hook Regatta, held on the Clyde, July 5. The race between the Britannia and Vigitant, however was most interesting, and, although the Vigitant was defeated by the Britannia by 35 seconds, it in no respect indicates any inferiority on her part. Here is the cabled report of the event:

There was a strong south southwest wind up the channel, accompanied by rain and a thick haze. The course was fifty miles. It was a dead beat to the markboat off Skilmorite, a close haul to Mount Stuart, then a run in the wind to Kilcreggan, and a close haul home, twice around. The start was fixed for 10.30 A.M. In starting the Vigilant was furthest out. The Britannia, lufting along the line, got about quickly and crossed the line with the sound of the gun. The Vigilant was slower in stays and was exactly a minute later. Both yachts were on the starboard tack as they bore away to mid-channel. All had their jib headers alort. Meanwhile the Satanits and the Valkyrie had been manceuvring for weather, and in the volkyrie had been manceuvring for weather, and held her lead until Mount Stuart was reached. Here the Vigilant was to she haul to fetch Mount Stuart. Clearing Gonrock Bay the balloon sail, which, together with her enormous balloons to starboard, besides her great foresail, reaching from stern to bow. The Britannia contented herself with a plain balloon. Both boa's ran at a tremen smail raters and the Britannia researed the gap between them. The time when the yachts passed the last flagboat before the finish was:

44.07m.30s. Vigitant.

4 08 03

It was now a reach to the finish. Although the wind was softening, the pace was great and the yachts ploughed up great lashes of foam. The Vigilant tried for the Britannia's weather, but was ansuccessful. The Vigilant led the Britannia on the homeward journey by three minutes and fortyfive seconds, but the Vigilant kept inshore, where the wind luited. The Britannia, on the other hand, held out in mid-channel, and getting the first of the new wind, slipped past the Vigilant at the second turning point from the last. When the yachts were nearing the finish line the vast crowds on shore set up a mighty shout and the whistles of fifty steam yachts emitted a chorus of shrieks. The finish was a thrilling spectacle. The haze which had intherto obscured the course lifted and for the last hait hour of the race there was brilliant sunshine. The Britannia salied closer to the wind than the Vigilant. The time when they rounded the final mark was as follows:

RISANDIA.

The time when they rounded the filmai mark was as follows:

Britannia 4h, 25m, 10s, Vigilant.

428 45

Experts hold that the victory of the Britannia was won cleverly, but they agree that the Vigilant can beat her in pointing and reaching. The Times, Standard, Morning Post and Daily Graphic say that the official time at the finish was: Britannia, 4h, 27m, 31s.; Vigilant, 4h, 28m, 24s, The Sportsman says that the Britannia's time at the finish was 4h, 26m, and the Vigilant's 4h, 26m, 36s.

THE VIGILANT AGAIN BEATEN.

The race for the Queen's Cup is regarded as one of the greatest yachting contests, and every possible preparation was nuade for it by both yachts. Captain Carter, of exciting. It was a marvelous exhibition of seamanching on the part of Captains Haff and Carter. The Britannia ran up a small jib topsail, but the Vigilant hept bet can was unchanged. Both vachts were close hauled. We was rounded by the Britannia at 12.01:30, and by the Vigilant at 12.00:30.

The Britannia quickly got outher balloon to starboard for the run before the wind. The Vigilant also set her balloon sails, but was a deplorably long time in doing so, The Vigilant then tried to weather the Britannia, but the latter bore up and her balloon canvas did not draw. The Vigilant Loses Her Third Race.

The yachting public of America are now beginning to believe that there is some merit in the Prince of Wales' cutter Britannia, and that she can Prince of Wales' cutter Britannia, and that she can win by more than a mere fluke. Excuses for the Vigilant's defeats are growing monotonous, and each time her defeat is recorded the more firmly ber many admirers are convinced that there are other yachts of merit in existence. The subjoined carlegram gives a full account of the third defeat, the Vigilant has sustained at the hands of the Britannia.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

Again the American Representatives Fail to Carry Off a Trophy. The annual regatta at Heniey-on-the Thames, the great amateur and collegiate rowing fixture of the year in England, was held during the past week. Special interest was taken in it by oarsmen and their followers on this side of the Atlantic, owing to the fact that among the entries for the Diamond Sculls were John J. Ryan, the American amateur champion sculler, and Joseph Wright, captain of the Toronto Rowing Club, who went to England champion sculler, and Joseph Wright, captain of the Toronto Rowing Club, who went to England full of confidence in their ability to wrest from the carsmen of that country at least one trophy. As will be seen from the appended cable account of the regatts, they did not prove equal to the occasion, the best that they could do being the winning by Wright of his trial heat for the Dismond Sculls from H. S. Verity. Ryan, who was rightly regarded as the better carsman of the two delegates from the Western Continent, was rather easily defeated in his trial heat by that experienced sculler. Guy Nickalls, the eventual winner of the prize. Ryan and Wright decided not to start for the Silver Goblets, for double sculls, preferring to reserve their powers for the singles. Here is the cabled report: First day, July 4—The Henley Royal Regatts opened at noon today, with superb weather and an unusually large attendance. International interest in the events was confined to the race for the Diamond Sculls. The first heat was contested by Vivian Nickalls, Magdalan College, Oxiord, and Francis Boudin, Societe d'Encouragement, Paris. The heat was won by Nickalls by four lengths. The second heat was won by Joseph Wright, Toronto, who beat it has. Time, 9m 43s. ROWING ON THE SCHUYLKILL.

Picked Amateur Oarsmen Compete at the People's and Cup Regatta.

Ten thousand persons gathered on the banks of Schuylkiil River, at Philadelphia, Pa., on the the Schuyikii River, at Philadelphia, ra., on the afternoon of the Fourth of July, eager with anticipation regarding the rowing carnival that annually takes place there on the day we celebrate—the People's and Cup Regatia, which yearly attracts the best amateur carsmen in the East, and which the best amateur oaramen in the pass, and was seldom fails to produce a succession of highly interesting struggles for the honors attendant upon victory. tory. Among the large assemblage were very many ladies, attired in bright summer costumes, adding brilliancy to the natural beauty of Fairmount Park. The programme comprised eight races, four of which were won by Philadelphia crews, three by Newark ciubs, and one, the pair cared shells, was declared no race, as the shell of Turner and Douglass, of the New York Athletic Club, ran on a mud bank and was swamped. With the exception of the junior eight oared shells none of the races was very closely contested. The eights were rowed a mile and a half, straightaway, while the other races were rowed with a turn.

In the junior eights the Fairmount Boating Club crew and the American Rowing Club crew came down to the finish low to bow, and by a supreme effort the former won by about three feet. Two lengths in the rear of the leading boats were the crews of the Potomac Boat Club and the Montrose Boat Club, in the order mamed, and about half a length apart. The Tritons, of Newark, won-the senior eights by a length and a quarter from the Vespers, of Philadelphia, and a length and a quarter behind the Vespers was the Pennsylvania Barge Club crew. In the other races there were no close finishes. The summary:

The Boston City Regatta constituted the principal sporting feature of the celebration of the anniversary of American independence at the Hub of the Universe, and the love of rowing sport inherent in Bostonians was made manifest by the vast crowd that early gathered on the famous stone wall, crowded Harvard Bridge for the famous stone wall, crowded Harvard Bridge for half its length, packed the roof of the Union Boat Club house, and filled the pleasure craft on the opposite side of the Charles River. The weather was clear and warm, and the water in fairly good condition. The races were rowed over the usual course, with a turn, and the officials were: Referee, John J. Rand; W. H. Caddy and Laurence A. Fogarty, judges at the upper turn. The races were badly managed, in that nearly every race was started before the official timers could get near the starting point; consequently, no time was taken—something that never before occurred at a regatta on the Charles River, to our knowledge, and which tends to indicate ignorance that is quite unpardonable on the part of a race official. A summary of the events follows:

GOFF THE ALL AROUND CHAMPION.

Fine Athletic Meeting on the New Jersey

Club's Handsome Grounds.

The customary carnival of athletic sports was held by the New Jersey Athletic Club on their well arranged grounds at Bergen Point, N. J., on the Fourth of July, the importance of the fixture being this year increased by the competition for the all around championship. The weather was delightful, and the unusual attractions offered had the round conditionship. The weather was designed, and the unusual altractions offered had the effect of bringing to the spot several thousand persons, the fair sex predominating. Some very exciting competitions marked the exercises. The chief interest centred in the contest for the championship, which, it wever, was not so close as had been anticipated, Goff, the entry from the home club, winning rather easily. The win was a highly popular one, and the winner was observed to the echo by his clumates and other New Jersey men. George Gray, of the New York Athletic Club, the unapproachable shot putter, was thought by some to have a fair chance to carry of the honors, but he was a big disappointment, finishing last of the nine who participated in the competition. The People's Sports. A meeting for which the prizes are provided by the City Fathers came off at the University Athletic Grounds, Philadelphia, Pa., on the Fourth of July. No admission was charged, and about twenty-three hundred ladies and gentlemen availed themselves of the opportunity to witness what promised to be an interesting series of outdoor contests. There were not many performers of wide reputation enan interesting series of outdoor contests. Here were not many performers of wide reputation engaged, but the entries were numerous, and a good atternoon's sport was had. C. T. Bucholtz was the hero of the occasion, carrying off more prizes than any other entry, which, however, is not to be wondered at under the circumstances. Summary:

B. Robertson. Good reports are cabled regarding the practice of the American team, who have created a highly tavorable impression among the experts who have witnessed their performances in practice. The physique of the big man of the party, W. O. Hickok, the hammer singer, is greatly admired, and the jumping abilities of Sheldon are expected to make the siruggic between him and Fry, the British crack, a most interesting evert. The Americana also bid fair to hold their own in the path events, on the flat as well as over the hurdles. The officials chosen for the meeting are; Stewards—Jackson and Shearman for Oxford and Shearill and Van Ingen for Vaic. Judges—Mr. Cregg, ex President of the Cambridge Athletic Cub, and Mr. Herbert, Secretary of the Amateur Athletic Association. Referee—Mr. Beardsall, President of the Northern Counties Athletic Association.

RING.

CLOVER, Petersburg.—The fight between Heenan and Sayers terminated unsatisfactority, the referee leaving the ring side while the men were fighting, and several rounds being afterward fought without a referee. The stakes were finally drawn, Sayers retiring from the ring.

B. O.K., Wikkesbarre.—Corbett is the cleverer boxer of the two mentioned, but he is not "a better man" than John L. Sullivan was when the latter was in his prime.

J. T. S., Butte City.—John C. Heenan was not married to Jenny Lind.

H. A. S., Worcester.—The fight having been declared a draw, all bets on the result thereof are drawn also.

W. S. D., Concord.—The bet is a draw. See answer to "H. A. S."

answer to "H. A. S."

TURF.

D. N., Minden.—The bet having been made on the entries as published before the race, the party who bet on Roche won the money, as Don Alonzo, the actual winner of the event, was not named in said list.

D. L., Norfolk.—We are without the necessary data by which to answer your question.

A. W. K., Brooklyn.—Write to Walter T. Chester, 42-52, Times Building, New York, for the desired iaformation.

OMNIUM GATHERIUM—We have often promised ourselves, as well as our correspondents, to give a great many things of value and interest; and now that the chess season is off, and the championship settled, we shall, doubtless, get to some of them alike at home and abroad.

Albert B. Hodges.

Again we have a veritable and worthy champion of the United States, a Caissan here who has squarely won the United States, a Caissan here who has squarely won the Caissan here were stated to the state of the Caissan here were stated word that the supplementary match, hodges vs. Showalter, for the U. This is exceedingly close work, and we shall be surprised it the present champion is permitted very long to wear his new honors unchallenged. He is now doubly a champion viz., of New York State, which he won triumphantly last year; and now of the whole country, as above stated.

MIDSUMBER CUTING.—We learn with much satisfaction that the "Midsummer, Outing Tourneys" of the New York State Association are to be held at Buffalo. The members and visitors could be no more genially received than they will be in that city, where chess does abundantly flourish. The two leading events are, of course, the contest for the State championship and that of various local champions, each doing earnest battle, ambitious to win for his club the annual possession of the great States Zeitung Challenge Cup. This will be the tourth tourney for it. Maj. J. M. Hanham first won it for the Manhattan C. C.; then Emil Kemeny, for the City Club; thirdly, Champion Hodges carried it to the Staten Island. C. C.; and now—who? There will be other items galore; for; you may depend upon it, those Buffaloss will see to everything in the best manner. Oh, we know some of them, and such a "some" as makes us wish we knew more.

CHECKERS.

News of the Game.

There are cheeter players and checker players, but the lowest in menhood among them is the leflow who always rushes into print to publish his score when he wins, but wriggles and squirms with all sorts of foolish excuses when he loses. One who endeavors to attain a rating by such method deserves to be ignored on every occasion, because if you play him and beat him he will never publish you as his victor. ... Dr. Schaefer gave a simultaneous exhibition at the rooms of the West Side Checker Club recently, playing sixteen, wrining it and drawing 2. Measure Lowden and buttle were the lucky ones. With all his peculiarities, he has done more for checkers than any player living or dead But, like some players we know of, he, when defeated, was the worst loser we ever saw. When checkers was in its infancy in this country he came over and made a tour, creating new and lasting interest in the game, and gathered in the American dollar. He will go down in history as a great player, but one who would never acknowledge defeat. ... In direct contrast to the last is Robert Martins, a brother Scotchman, ex-champion of Great Britain, ex-champion of the world, a player in the same grade with Wyllie, but always willing to admit a fair defeat. He recently the following score: Martins, 2; J. A. Keas Fr. 1. drawn, 3 Martins, 5; J. A. Keas Fr. 1. drawn, 5 Martins, 7; J. A. Keas Fr. 1. drawn, 5 Martins, 7; J. A. Great Gathering at Riverton.

Great Gathering at Riverton.

The opening of the new track at Riverton, N. J., on the Fourth of July must be classed as a highly successful affair, as about six thousand persons passed through the gates, riders of good quality were not scarce, and the races afforded the utmost satisfaction to the large and enthusiastic assemblage—such a crowd as never before congregated to witness a sporting event in that pretty lown on the banks of the Delaware River. The prizes were handsome and well worthy of the earnest efforts of the riders, while the pedalists deserved all the appliance they received. Summary:

Latest Sayings and Doings of the Base-

Latest Sayings and Doings of the Baseball Fraternity.

Harry Wright, chief of umpires, in recently speaking about the Boston team, said: "I think the Boston team is just as strong now as ever before. Nothing short of a cyclone could shake up that crowd. You see they have played together so long that their play has become a perfect system. They work for the runs, and they usually get them. No man on the Boston team will hesitate a moment to sacrifice his record if he can advance a runner. It is a common complaint among other clubs that the champions can get more runs on less hits than any other team on earth. This is true. They are quick on their feet, and never asieep—always ready to take advantage of a mispiay, and they all work together in the common cause. Depend on it, Boston will make matters lively this season as before. The case of the Phillies is particularly lamentable this season; just when they got ready to do some good work some of their oldest and best men were laid up, and it is difficult to tell when they will be in good shape again. Of course the new talent which Manager Irwin has been compelled to put into the game is very good material, but the absence of tue old players shakes confidence among the old men who remain. Confidence is a thing which has won no end of games and has won the pennant many times. A team which has all its tried and true players in line feels confident, and it doesn't matter a particle whether the opposing team is a few runs alted or not, they feel confident, and this confidence often enables them to puil out of some very bad holes. But let one of the regulars on a team be hurt; let a new man take his place, the other players begin to feel nervous, and when they get in that condition there's trouble brewing."

A substantial dividend has just been declared by the National League and American Association. Up to the first of the present month the attendance at the major league games has exceeded all previous records, especially in the East. The attendance in the Western cities showed a considerable failing off as compared with the Eastern cities. President Young is able to meet all of the expenses of the organization. By a provision of the constitution, the surplus is divided equally among the twelve clubs, so that the weak as well as the strong clubs are benefitted by the wise and popular "help your neighbor" policy adopted by the National League and American Association.

Pittsburg vs. Boston.

These clubs contended twice July 4, at Pittsburg, Pa., each then scoring a victory. Superior base running and hard hitting helped the Bostons to win the morning game. Stivetts kept the Pittsburgs from bunching their hits except in the sixth inning, when they made three earned runs. Killen, although battled freely, kept the hits wide apart up to the seventh inning, when the Bostons batted out five runs and the victory. Glassocok had his hand split and retired in the eighth inning, Lyons taking his place and playing third base, while Shiebeck split and retired in the eighth inning, Lyons taking his place and playing third base, while Shiebeck was shifted to short stop. A home run by Beckley, triple baggers by Stivetts, Lowe, Stenzel and Lyons, and doubles by Bannon, Lowe and Tucker were the long hits. Merritt batted in Kilien's place in the last half of the ninth inning. Long was ordered out of the game in the sixth inning for abusive language to Umpire Lynch, and Ryan took his place, catching, while Ganzel guarded short stop.

George Tredway, one of the outfielders of the Brooklyn Club, of the National League and American Association, was born Nov. 11, 1866, in Greenup County, Ky., and commenced playing ball at an early age. He first gained prominence at Dubuque, where he first learned to play ball. He accepted his first professional engagement with the St. Paul Club, of the Western Association, in 1889. He took part that year as an outfielder in one hundred and twenty-one championship contests, and made a fine record for himself, ranking tenth in the official batting averages of that association. In 1890 Tredway joined the Denver Club, of the same association, and in the eighly-six championship contests in which he took part as an outfielder that season, he ranked fifth, in a field of forty-five, in the official fielding averages of that organization. In 1890 Tredway fielding averages of that organization. Chicago vs. Philadelphia.

Each club won one of the two games scheduled July 4, at Chicago, Ill., the total attendance for the day being larger than that of any other contest of day being larger than that of any other contest of the National League and American Association. Weyhing was hit hard in all directions during the first three innings of the morning game, the home team then securing eleven runs and a winning lead. Turner then took his place, and pitched well for an outfielder during the remainder of the contest. In the fifth inning Lange got a home run on a drive over the centre field fence, it being the longest hit ever made on the local grounds. The Phitadelphias pounded Griffith out of the pitcher's position in the first linning, and McGill, who succeeded him, did good work with the exception of two innings. Lange and Hamilton led their respective teams in batting. I rwin fielded finely at short stop, as also did Sullivan, the latest accession to the Phitadelphia feed.

Two games were played July 4, at St. Louis, Mo., each team then scoring a victory. Rain interrupted the morning contest three times and caused a comthe morning contest three times and caused a com-paratively small attendance. The visitors batted out four runs in the first inning, and the lead thus gained was held throughout. Sullivan held the St. Louis down to six scattering safe hits, which included, how-ever, a home run by Hawley and a triple bagger by Dowd. The visitors batted Hawley hard when men-were on bases, Hasamaer leading with three slugles. Mani made a home run and McGuire a double bagger. Quinn accepted all of ten chances at second base. Ricks, a local amateur, was tried at third base, bui played so poorly that he was retired in the third inning, Miller then taking his place, and also re-lieving Peltz in the fifth inning.

The home team turned the tables on their opponents in the afternoon game, which was also poorly attended for a holiday attraction. The visitors started off with the lead, but the home team tited started off with the lead, but the nome team tied the score in the second inning, and then battled out seven runs in the third, which helped them to a winning lead. Esper and Mercer were both batted hard, and when hits were needed, Quinn and Miller each making three timely singles, while triple bag-gers were made by Frank, Ely and Clarkson. Quinn again excelled in fielding, accepting ten chances at second base without an error, and taking part in three sharp double plays.

Cincinnati vs. New York.

The New Yorks continued their winning stream by defeating the Cincinnatis July 9, at Cincinnati O. It was their eleventh consecutive victory on the present Western trip. The New Yorks batted hard present Western trip. The New Yorks batted hard and often, especially in the third and sixth innings, and their fielding, while not up to the standard, was very good, and at times really brilliant. Fuller and Davis, despite their errors, played well, and Ward accepted all of eight chances at second base. Burke, Hoy and Canavan also fielded well, they capturing thriteen fly balls in the outfield. The New Yorks gave a fine exhibition of base-running. Ward, in particular, distinguished himself in that line. Dwyer started in to pitch for the home team, but was batted so freely in the third inning that he exchanged positions with Parrott, who was also batted hard and often. Dwyer's work at snort stop was a fielding feature of the home team's work. Rusie was very effective at critical stages.

Baltimore vs. Pittsburg.
The Baltimores strengthened their hold on first place by defeating the Pittsburgs July 9, at Balti-more, Md. The Pittsburgs batted Brown hard, es-pecially in the third and fourth innings, when they more, Md. The Pittaburgs batted Brown hard, especially in the third and fourth innings, when they scored eight runs, and at the end of the fourth innings had a lead of 9 to 0. After that the Baltimores batted Killen hard and often, especially in the sixth and seventh innings, when he was taken out and Colcolough-substituted, but the home team managed to bat him when hits were needed. Brodie led the batting, making a safe hit, including a triple and two d ouble baggers, each of the six times he went to the bat. Brown was taken out inthe sixth inning and replaced by luks, who prevented the visitors from again scoring. Stenzel did the best batting for the visitors. His two hits included a home run and a triple bagger.

A special meeting of the New England League was held July 7, at Boston, Mass. The delegates present were President Waimsley and Manager Mcwas held July 7, at Boston, Mass. The delegates present were President Waimaley and Manager McDermott, of Fall River; Vice President McDonough, of Lewiston; President Ross and Manager Garrity, of Portland; Managers Irwin, of Haverhill, Bacon, of Bangor, and Allen of Brockton; President Morway and Paul lienty, of Worcester, and Mesars. Moy and Donahue, of Pawtucket. President Mufnane presided. A motion made by Fall River that clubs be allowed to transfer Saturday games, the visiting club to receive not less than 50 per cent. of the gate, was adopted unanimously. The two games, Portland vs. Lewiston, of July 4, a. M., and Portland vs. Lewiston, of July 4, a. M., and Portland vs. Lewiston, of July 4, a. M., and Portland vs. Lewiston, of July 4, a. M., and Portland vs. Haverhill of July 7, played at Portland, and protested by the two visiting clubs, were brought up for discussion. Upon motion these games were thrown out, as it was proven that Pitcher Morse had not been released by Pawtucket, and had no right to play with Portland or any of the other New England Clubs. It was voted that Worcester return to Pawtucket the $50 which the latter club paid the former, and that the Sunday games should not count. As the clubs would be benefited thereby, the following changes have been made in the New England League schedule:

July 22, 28—Haveritil, at Pawtucket.

July 23, 28—Hawer, at Worcester.

July 24, 28—Hawer, at Fall River.

Ang 29, 30—Fall River, at Bangor.

The condition of affairs in the league was shown to be very satisfactory, and it was a matter of much congratulation among the officers of the different clubs that the eight club league was doing so well and that the prospects were so bright.

American 'Cyclists Abroad.

A. A. Zimmerman turned the tables on the 'cyclists who defeated him at Florence, Italy, in his first race of the season. On June 21, at that place, he won his heat in a 2,000 metres race, defeating Pontechi and Ferraris easily, in 3m. 11s. The final he won his heat in a 2,000 metres face, defeating Pontechi and Ferraris easily, in 3m. 11s. The final heat went over Sunday, "Zimmy" won the one mile race, with Wheeler second, in 2m. 29 5s. On Sunday, 24, Zimmerman won a 5,000 metres event with ease from Pontechi and Alaimo, the latter of whom tried to throw the American, who respectfully declined to take part in the next event, which was won by Wheeler. The distance was five miles and the time 13m. 3s. On the 26, at Milan, Zimmer man and Wheeler each took a heat in a mile race, and the final was won by Wheeler, with "Zimmy" at his wheel and the Dagos well to the rear. Then came a five miles Italo-American match race, which Zimmerman captured handily, with Wheeler close up. On July 1 Zimmerman appeared in Brussels, Belgium, where he suffered defeat in the final heat at the hands of Houber, who had previously beaten the Jerseyman at Paris. Wheeler was not placed.

At Paris on Sunday, July 8, Crooka, another American rider, was fire a kilometres. A. A Zimmerman beat A. C. Edwards in a match for 2,50f.a side. There were to have been three heats, but as both the first of one kilometre) and the second (of two kilometres) were won by Zimmerman, the final heat was omitted. Zimmerman rode without apparent exertion, while Edwards seemed to be attaining every nerve. Harry Wheeler won the Malines prize over a distance of one kilometre.

A series of races took place at Louisville, Ky., on July 7, at the Auditorium track and ten thousand people are add to have assembled to witness from the chief event was the annual road race under the management of Prince Wells, over a distance of ... ght and a half utiles, the run being from the Auditorium to Jacobs Park and return. RACING AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

Dobbins Wins the Rich Realization Stakes.

The races at Sheepshead Bay, July 3, were witnessed by fully six thousand spectarors. The most exciting finish of the day was between California and Anisette in the Vernal Stake race, for two year and Anisette in the Vernal Stake race, for two year old fillies. There were twelve fillies in the race, but in a bruising finish California heat Ainsette by a short nose. The sport was very good, and as all the winners were well backed horses, the spectators went home in the evening with their faces wreathed in smiles. Summary:

The tremendous thunder storm that raged about the middle of the day, 6, prevented the more timid of the racegoers from taking any chances in the deluge, consequently the attendance at the track was the lightest of the meeting. The form players were all at sea owing to the middly track, and only two favorites won during the day, the other winners being mostly long shots, Hanwell, the winner of the second race, being quoted at from 50 to 100 to 1. There were no stake events. Summary:

The great race for the Realization Stakes attracted fully fifteen thousand people, 7, and they saw hobbins win $33,850 with comparative ease. The great battle, however, was the contest for second money between Hornpipe and Rey El Santa Anita, the former winning by a head in a deree drive, and landing $3,000 for his owners, while third money, $1,000, went to Rey El Santa Anita. The sport opened with the last part of the Double Event, which, to the surprise of almost the entire assemblage, was won by Cesarion instead of a noted crack a jack like Wattzer, Sir Galahad, Keenan or Halistone. The stake was worth $1,000 to the winner. Summary:

Racing by the Sea.

Although there had been no racing at Brighton Beach since Decoration Day, it cut no figure with the public when the association threw the gates open on the Fourth of July, as the crowd piled into this popular track until the facilities of the grand stand, track and betting ring were taxed to their utmost capacity. The racing was of an excellent character, and it was greatly enjoyed by the spectators.

Death of Captain Babcock.

Death of Captain Babcock.

William R. Babcock, who for many years was a tamiliar figure on the tracks of the principal racing associations, died suddenly of apoplexy at the Linden Park Blood Horse Association's grounds at Linden, N. J., on July 9. He was the superintendent of that property, and with a force of men had been working in the fields, and was on his way to his cottage when he was stricken down. He died soon afterwards. Thirty years ago deceased was a leading turban, and the owner of a number of thorough. died soon afterwards. Thirty years ago deceased was a leading turfiman, and the owner of a number of thoroughbied that achieved fame by their performances on the track, notably Helmbold, the winner of the Monmouth Cup in 1870, and which defeated the celebrated Longfellow at four niles over the old Saratoga track. Infortument of the Monmouth Cup in 1870, and Mr. Babecok became a trainer for other racing establishments. Of recent years his connection with racing was in the capacity of timer, he having earned the reputation of being one of the most accurate of timekeepers and upright of officials. He officiated in that capacity on all the leading tracks in the East for years before his death, and was on the staff of the new Jockey Club, having last timed on the occasion of the closing day's racing at the C. I. J. C. Spring meeting, July 7. "Bab" also gained lasting fame as an eyert in the preparation of the toothsome clambke, and his services were for many years in demand all along the Atlaces were for many years in demand all along the Atlaces were for many years in second and the services were for the preparation of the succelent quolog, the receipt for the preparation of which he very jealoudy, the receipt for the preparation of which he very jealoudy, the services him.

Maxim, by Musket, considered to be the best race horse that New Zealand ever produced, died at Rancho bel Paso, Cal, on July 2. The horse was brought to California from New Zealand some years ago by John Mackay, and J. B. Haggin afterwards purchased him for $21,000. Maxim was recently turown in his stall, and the shock resulted in his death. As a stallion he was much prized and his loss to his owner is great.

The stud of the late Abington Baird and that of the Duchess of Montrose were sold at auction at Newmarket, Eng., July 2, fifty-two head of the latter bringing over $200,000, while Sir J. Blundell Maple paid $17,500 for Busybody, of the Baird Stud.

The July Stakes was run for at Newmarket, Eng., on July 3, the winner being Kirconnell, the favorite, the being on him being 7 to 2. Golden Blaze was second and St. Johann third.

THE RING.

To Box at Coney Island.

The old Coney Island Athletic Club has been resurrected under new management, and its name has been changed te Seaside Athletic Club. The object of the organization is, like that of the old one, the fostering of boxing and the holding of glove contests, under the Queensberry the holding of glove contests, under the Queensberrules, in their arens, and this is rendered possibly through the granting of an application by Judge Garno for a mandamus to compet Mayor Schieren, of Brooklyn who was opposed to the scheme, to issue a license to the new organization. In rendering his decision Judge (layaror says):

new organization. In rendering his decision Judge (saynor says:

"I may not consider the question whether it might be wise for the Common Council to give the Mayor about the power and discretion to license or refuse to license places for public sanusement, except in so far as it may bear upon the question whether the language under construction can be said to even suggest any intention or disposition of the Common Council to confer upon the Mayor a power so great. And in the same view I need not refrain from saying that such powers as the lease requires me to consider have only too often been used for political coercion, the extortion of money and even the levy of blackmail. The refugat is put upon the ground that before the town of dravesed became a part of Brocklyn some prize fights were held in the building. Surely to cour now. The license will not be too distinct that the law, If any exhibition there he any violation of the law, If any exhibition there he any violation of the law, If any exhibition there he any violation of the law, If any exhibition there he any violation of the cat."

New Yorks soon are considered in a properties of the well as the property of the compact of the property of the work of the compact of the property of the section taken by Judge Gaynor was hardly hoped for by the sports of the two cities, but it proved a most agreeable surprise, and the prospect of witnessing passages at arms between some of the more pronitent knights of the buckskins within easy distance of the metropolis is a cheering one.

The Lightweight Championship.

The Lightweight Championship.

Horace Leeds, of Atlantic City, has challenged Jack McAuliffe to right for a stake and the lightweight championship, and the latter has expressed his readiness to make the desired match, but stipulates 1330s, "give or take two ounces." This don't suit Leeds, who says that he will make a match only at the recognized lightweight maximum limit, 1350s, and threatens to claim the title of lightweight champion if MeAuliffe don't make a match on those term challenge, on beliaf of Joe Walcott, to Cheels, Austin Gibbons, Stanton Abbott, or any other man in the world, to fight for $2,500 a sole and the largest purse that may be offered, with the lightweight championship, the men to be confined to 1350. In support of this challenge he has posted $1,000 with a contemporary in this city, so that Leeds, Gibbons or any other boxer who may be spoiling for a fight need not go unaccommodated. O'Rourke's big deposit gives him all the best of the argument, and it now remains for McAuliffe, the wishes to retain the trook remains for McAuliffe, the wishes to retain good." otherwise their load talk will be regarded as sounding brass.

ROBERT SMITH, the veteran boxer, trainer and second, died at Gouverneur Hospitial, this city, on Friday attermoon, July 6, of Brights disease, complicated with other aliments. He had been an immate of the institution lor some time. He came to this country from Liverpool, Emc., nearly thirty years ago, and for many years given quite prominently users ago, and for many years given that the second of the modern school, although he did not have the same liking for the "glovers" as he did for the lads who were willing to swallow the gruel administered by a rough, pickled fist. There were few better trainers or seconds than Bob inhis day, for he understood his business thoroughly and always did the very best that could be done for his charge, both in and out of the ring. Of late years Smith figured only infrequently as master of ceremonies at professional boxing entertainments.

BILLY MADDEN, as we expected, has made his presence at Buffalo elt by the members of the sporting fraternity, the has made arrangements for a monster athletic tournament, to include all sorts of soots, from boxing to bicycling, to take place at the Buffalo Driving Park on Saturday afternoon and evening, July 28. Events will be provided for both amateurs and professionals, with appropriate prizes. Jake Kilran, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack McAuliffe and other boxers of repute are expected to participate, and the carnival will wind on with a ball at lafet.

Jos Walcorr, the colored boxer, added to his list of hight. Billy has the sports of the Bison City with him in the venture, and it is expected to prove a very successful affair.

Jor Walcort, the colored boxer, added to his list of victories by knocking out Dick O'Brien in the twelith round of a glore fight at the Casino, Boston, Mars, on the evening of July 6. The contest was witnessed by about three thousand persons, and they enjoyed one of the hottest battles seen there for some time. The winner-was attended by Tom O'Rourke, Jack Havelin and Maurice Kelly, while O'Brien was looked after by Billy Hennessy, Mike Saars and Sam Fitzpatrick. The latter was the raller, heavier and better conditioned of the two, but the dusky boxer proved the cleverer. "Dee" O'Con-nell was referee.

BILLY PLIMMER AND WILLIE SMITH, of London, Eng.,

BILLY PILINER AND WILLIE SMITH, of London, Eng., have been settled to fight for a purse of $2,500, hung up by the National Systimut Club, and a stake of $500 and the National Systimut Club, and a stake of $500 and the Stricks Isse, while Pilinmer has made a clean sweep of his engagements in this country, proving himself an unquestionably clever, game and willing kinght of the knuckles, who will always do to put one's money on at evens or less. With two such smart lads in the arena, the forthcoming battle ought to be worth a journey to see.

STANTON ABBOTT defeated Billy Myer in their glove fight at Boston, Mass, on the evening of the Fourth of July, the engagement lasting fifteen rounds. Myer had rather the best of it till near the finish, he doing nearly all the leading and tiring himself out by his rushes, while abbott remained on the delensive till he was in the better shape, physically, of the two, when he went in and won.

HARRY SPURDEN defeated "Darkey" Burton in a glove fight tor $29 asude and a purse of $500 before the Boling-broke Club, in London, Eng., June 27. They fought can tiously and scientifically, the battle finally termination in the twenty second round, in which Burton was floore-

CHEAPER THAN THE CHEAPEST

DO YOU WANT

A Reliable, Experienced and Practical Variety Business and Stage Manager and Bill Writer,

At a small cheap salary, at your Variety Place? If so, I will work cheaper than the cheapest for the work I engage to do in my line, and can commence at once, or at any time, and finish at end of first week if you should think my services were not worth the small salary. Therefore, if any risk in engaging me, it would only amount to about one week, at a small cheap salary. And as sober, reliable and experienced service would much, if any, if you thought my work not satisfactory for the small salary. An offer of a small cheap salary that will be paid, and one week trial solicited, and will be accepted. Address
